➤ Universal Access Transceiver (UAT) MOPS

Mr. Stone was asked to determine whether there was broad industry support for development of a UAT MOPS. RTCA member companies were polled with this question. While some negative responses were received, far more were favorable and included several avionics suppliers. Mr. Stone confirmed that he believed the UAT MOPS could be completed by January 2002. This expression of industry support reaffirmed the PMC's earlier decision (June 20, 2000) to approve development of a UAT MOPS.
